CLASS FEATURES

Bardic Inspiration - As a Bonus Action, inspire a creature within 60 feet. They gain a Bardic Inspiration die (d6) to add to a failed D20 Test within 1 hour. Uses equal to Charisma modifier (min 1), regained on Long Rest. Die becomes d8 at level 5, d10 at level 10, d12 at level 15.

Spellcasting - Cast bard spells using Charisma and ranger spells using Wisdom. Use a Musical Instrument as a Spellcasting Focus.

Expertise - Gain Expertise in two skill proficiencies of your choice. (Applied, Performance, Persuasion)

Jack of all Trades - You can add half your Proficiency Bonus (round down) to any ability check you make that uses a skill proficiency you lack and that doesn't otherwise use your Proficiency Bonus. (Applied)

Favored Enemy - You always have the Hunter's Mark spell prepared, and it doesn't count against the number of spells you can prepare. You can cast Hunter's Mark without expending a spell slot a number of times shown in the Favored Enemy column of the Ranger Features table (2 at level 1, increasing at levels 5, 9, 13, and 17), and you regain all expended uses when you finish a Long Rest.

APPEARANCE

BACKSTORY & PERSONALITY

Bellatrixy came from a noble, but very private wood elf family. Their only hope for their daughter is to carry on the family tradition, take up the longbow, and become the caretaker of the family woods. Bellatrixy though isn't going to let a bunch of backwaters old fogies stomp on her dreams of becoming the greatest musician of her time. She went along with her family's longbow training, but secretly practiced the art of music. Did you know the bagpipe is a very respected instrument in some magical land far far away? Well, every night she brings their sweet sweet notes to their ears until her family couldn't stand it anymore and kicked her out. Obviously they are jealous that she actually have bigger dreams than they do so off she went to bigger pastures.
